Data Loss Prevention

rocket IT

Sensitive information

Internal data breaches account for almost half of all data breaches.

Humans make mistakes

Staff may inadvertently send out sensitive information such as intellectual property.

Prevention is vital

Systems need to be in place to prevent sensitive information leaving the corporate network.

Transform your systems into your first line of defense

The threat landscape is a constantly evolving challenge for all businesses – the number of cyberattacks is continuing to rise, data exfiltration is now included in 70% of ransomware attacks, and insiders are responsible for 30% of all data breaches.

As a result, enterprises are constantly looking for ways to reduce the risk of sensitive data being leaked outside the company. And with so many potential weak points, it's necessary for organisations to put controls and solutions in place that not just monitor for inappropriate egress of corporate data, but also mitigate the risks as close to entirely as possible.
